

Abstract of the Disclosure

A leg protection system includes an airbag that deploys in front of a leg of an occupant seated in a vehicle seat. The airbag first deploys in front of an ankle or an instep of the leg, 5 and then deploys upwardly along the leg. An airbag may include an ankle bag that deploys only in front of the ankle or the instep, and a knee bag that deploys only in front of the knee. A vehicle may further include a closing panel for blocking a space between a lower end of an instrument panel and a dash panel.
